OMAHA UNI COLOR DAY CELEBRATED TODAY; PLANS FOR ANNUAL AFFAIR

"Y" Organizations Sponsor Project

Purpose Is To Create Enthusiasm
And Encourage School Spirit
For Athletic Games

SOUVENIRS AT BOOTHS

Today is a red letter day at the University of Omaha with the initial appearance of Color Day on the campus. Color Day will become an annual celebration at the institution if the plans of the promoting organizations, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., are carried out.

Slader and Schlick, Chairmen

Two chairmen have been appointed by the "Y's", Ellen Anne Slader and Stanley Schlick. To create enthusiasm and encourage school spirit, but especially to boost the game with Tarkio and the remaining games of the present football season, is the main purpose of Color Day. Wearing the colors of the university, especially at a game, gives the players more confidence, promotes enthusiasm in the wearer, and advertises the University of Omaha.

Booths in Room 5

Booths have been placed in Room 5, Joslyn Hall, and the room has been decorated in cardinal and black, U. of O. colors. Various articles are being sold there, including megaphones, tiny footballs, paper caps, pennant stickers, pom-poms, and crepe paper with which to decorate cars. Members of the "Y" organizations are in charge of the booths.

The booths will be open until six o'clock this evening. Loyal supporters of the U. of O. and the team are urged by the chairmen to observe Color Day, and buy the colors of the university.

Steak Fry Held by Omaha Uni. Faculty

Teachers Lose Dignity At Outing
In Hummel Park; Dunlap
Heads Big Party

After hearing Mr. Dunlap describe the faculty steak fry, I wished that I were a teacher just for the evening. "Was a rustic affair, this get-together of the faculty. The place was at Hummel Park, in a secluded spot of Mr. Dunlap's choosing."

Dunlap Is Chef

The chef for the occasion was Mr. Dunlap himself using his own patented apparatus for the frying. Wouldn't you enjoy seeing our Commercial Dept. head presiding over a hot, smoky fry preparing the evening repast?

If the students had been able to see the faculty at play Friday after the game, they might have changed their minds about the dignity of the respective members thereof.

SOPHS HOLD ELECTION VACANCIES ARE FILLED

The yearlings of the school had an important meeting in the gym on Monday, at 12:30. The purpose of this meeting was to fill the vacant offices and appoint a social committee to arrange for the annual Sophomore Prom. The offices filled were that of secretary vacated by Helen Jane Dunkin, and that of student council representative vacated by Ruth Shellington. The new officers are Myrle Ochiltree and Burdine Jones, respectively.

The committee appointed by the President of the Sophs to look after the "class" social engagements are Floyd Wilson, chairman; Myrle Ochiltree, Marjory Ochiltree, John Barber, Warren Hinzle, Willard Hill, and Margaret Cathers. The first affair will take place sometime in the more remote future.

Organize Pep Unit To Boost Games

Under the direction of Professor Hammer, the cheer leaders are organizing to boost the football in the games of the season. Three girls: Corrine Jensen, Helen Towl, and Leah Daubenheyer, and four boys: Fred Peirce, Paul Fay, Flody Wilson, and Norwood Woerner are to be in charge of the yells this year.

Costumes Planned

It is planned to have costumes for the leaders, just what is not yet decided. However, a white costume, sailor trousers and white sweaters for the boys, and white skirts and sweaters for the girls, with the colors of the university in the letters, is receiving favorable comment.

With the cheer leaders as instigators, a drill squad is being formulated. Thirty-two boys and the same number of girls are needed to make this plan a success. If the plans materialize and the squad becomes a feature of the school, Omaha need never worry about the performances between halves.

The leaders are working overtime to perfect yells, and it is hoped that they will be able to accompany the boys on the out-of-town games to give the needed "backing."

Student Support Needed

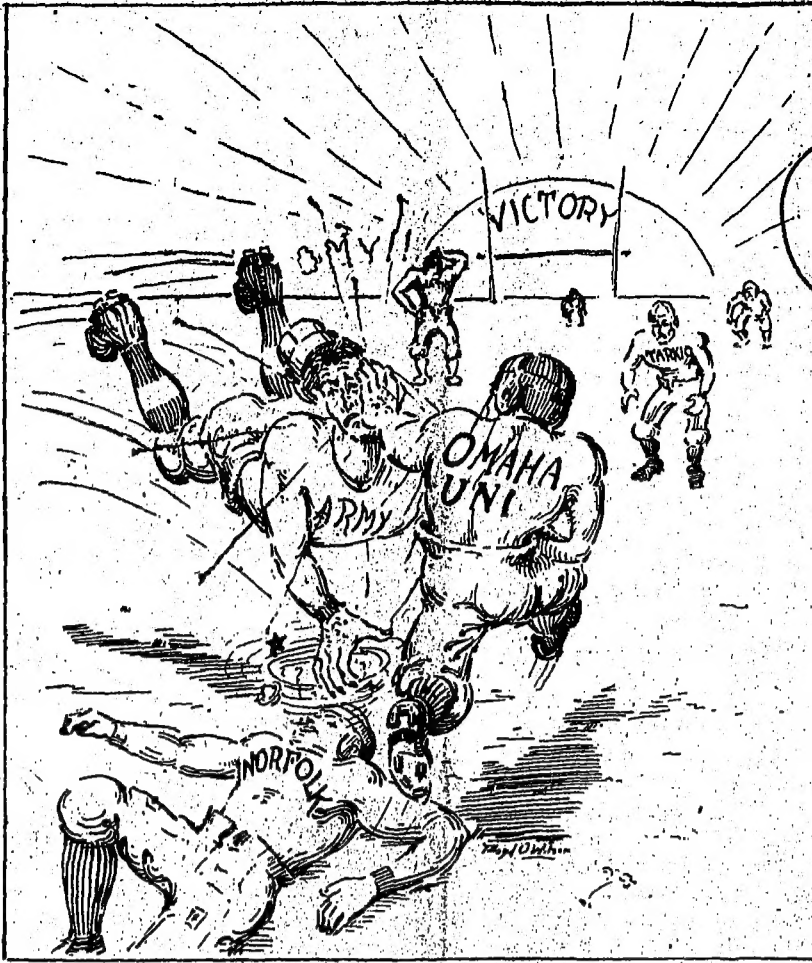

At present, the leaders feel that a lot more support on the part of the students is necessary to assure good yells at the games. In fact, one of the members of the squad particularly asked that an appeal be broadcast for the students to stand by the leaders and so back the team.

Horrors! And Other Slang Expressions

One fraternity, and two members! And Ellen Anne Slader is greatly worried about the functioning of Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociological fraternity. In fact she says that they (the two members) are thinking seriously of drafting members. And the other member is Neil Chapman! Ellen Anne says that since there are no advanced classes in sociology, she guesses that said members will go to the Riviera and study mob psychology.

Paint Pot Meets

The Paint Pot, art club of the University of Omaha, began its activities with a meeting Monday, October 8, at the home of Grace Hadden. Care met the members of the club to take them out to the home. With the interest shown in this department, the club promises to have a most interesting and entertaining season, as well as a most profitable one.

"Y" ORGANIZATIONS HEAR DR. EMERY

Praises Work Organizations Do
For School Spirit And
High Ideals

The joint "Y" meeting, held Tuesday, October 2, opened with group singing, led by Evelyn McDonald, and accompanied by Donald Butler on the piano. Elma Gove, program chairman of the "Y. W." had charge of the meeting.

Dr. Emery Speaks

The main feature of the meeting was an inspiring talk by Dr. E. W. Emery, President of the university. Dr. Emery said, "There are no two organizations on the campus that can be greater powers in furthering school spirit and inspiring high ideals for the students than the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A."

He believes that the "Y" organizations should have a definite purpose of developing personality and character. Religion brings to the surface the things that make a man's life really worth while in the opinion of President Emery.

"No one is happier than I am," he stated; "Religion has given me the desire to give you that which is best in me, and I want you to give me that which is most worthwhile in you."

Best Year Yet

Dr. Emery continued, "This year is going to be the best year yet for the Y. M. and Y. W., and for the university. The 'Y' organizations are doing great things!" He mentioned the sponsoring of Color Day, and the formal banquet which will be held for the entire student body and faculty members near Thanksgiving Day, and a formal reception at the beginning of the second semester.

"The President said, 'It hurts me to see big, husky football players who are the backbone of the university, sitting around in the hall and on the campus when a 'Y' is in session. It isn't effeminate; it takes courage and manhood to come to 'Y' meetings. I want our motto to be 'Every man and every woman on the campus in the Y. M. or Y. W.'"

Lorane Schoonfeldt, in his usual entertaining manner, outlined two very important things that the "Y" is planning. First—they are to have sticker pennants printed for cars, books, and what-not; second—they have been granted full privileges for all the concessions at the football games this season.

SIGMA PI FORENSIC HAS FIRST MEETING

Prospective Members; Plans For Entertainments Discussed
By Old Members

The first meeting of Sigma Pi was held last Wednesday in law school with five members present. The meeting was called to order by President Guilfoil at 7:45 P. M. The minutes of the previous meeting were by Helena Gebuhr, secretary, and approved by the members. Donald Butler, treasurer, gave a short report on finances, and also collected dues.

The notification of persons who had in past years debated for the university that such an organization as Sigma Pi existed, and that they might become members, was discussed. It was decided that the secretary take definite action on this matter, and to notify those persons.

Plans for a party for entertaining the prospective members were discussed, and it was decided to hold such a party the second week in November. Details are to be decided at the next meeting.

Various matters were discussed in open forum relative to debating and oratory, and their possibilities at the U. of O. this year.

The dignity of the meeting was constantly interrupted by puns from Edwin Hogle. His rapid flow of wit at times kept the organization highly entertained. Keen humor of Mr. Guilfoil also furnished a goodly share of the evening's entertainment. The meeting was adjourned shortly after nine o'clock.

Band Stand Erected At Athletic Field

Did you hear that old band sending forth those peppy tunes last Friday at the Ft. Crook game? And did you see where the players were stationed? It was worth the price of admission, wasn't it?

Everyone says that the new band stand that has been erected above the footers stand in a great improvement for everyone. Yes, yes, the band is out of the way, but also it can see a little of the game. The band plans to be out bigger and better than ever at the Tarkio game, according to the Green Major.

FRESHMAN DAY IS BIG SUCCESS; EVENT HELD AT FONTENELLE PARK

DR. EMERY IN GREAT DEMAND AS SPEAKER

Omaha has come to realize that the U. of O. has really passed its crisis, and that we have a real leader for the Cardinals this year! Consequently, Dr. Emery has been in great demand as a speaker at many affairs. On Wednesday he spoke at the Parent Teachers' Association of Saratoga School. He spoke on the subject of a strong body and mind, stressing heredity. On Thursday he spoke at the Y. W. C. A. on the "baggage of the student," stressing those courses which make for a better and broader understanding of life. On Sunday, he filled the pulpit of the First Unitarian Church of this city. The subject of his address was the somewhat broad one of education.

Coll. of Commerce Gets in Mad Rush

For the time being, the Commercial College has almost lost its identity in the mad rush of the football season. Not that classes are not running; they are; but much of the energy of students, faculty, and particularly the head of the department is bent on making the football drive a success.

To Hang Sign

The sign mentioned in the last issue of the Gateway is ready to hang across Farnam street, the first in the history of the institution. Pennants and banner are being rushed to completion by DeLos Thompson.

To show how closely the football "bug" and the Department of Commerce are connected, it might be interesting to mention that the desks of Coach Hubka and Dean Dunlap are side by side.

Mr. Dunlap Is Busy

Being that Mr. Dunlap hasn't enough to do, he has accepted an engagement to give one of his recitals before the P. T. A. and the Women's Club of Bellevue. However, this will not be until November 10.

All in all, one might remark that the Commercial Department is not working so slowly these days.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE HELD

Over fifty Student Volunteers of Nebraska attended an inspirational retreat the week-end of October 5, 6 and 7 at the Boy Scout Camp, two miles outside of Fremont. Ten colleges were represented. There were foreign students from Porto Rico, Hawaii and Japan.

The Japanese student entertained the group by playing selections on his guitar. Each college was allowed only two delegates. The U. of O. was granted the privilege of taking as many as desired to go. Fourteen students went from the local university.

Dr. Vartanian led devotions Friday night while the young people sat around a log fire in the main cabin. The Saturday morning devotionals led by Dr. Vartanian were very inspiring, due to his message and the picturesque setting on a sloping, sandy beach, amid trees arrayed in gorgeous fall colors.

James Wilson, General Secretary of the Student Volunteers, had charge of the other sessions of the conference, his retelling his experience at a Jerusalem Council of Ministers held Easter time, where there were fifty nations represented among the 500 delegates.

Wm. Sprague, who attended Omaha University last year, is continuing his school work at the University of Nebraska.

Upperclassmen and Frosh in Big Battle

Dancing, Games, And Eats Are
On Program Held Monday
By Omaha Uni.

FACULTY IS ON DECK

Freshman Day at Fontenelle Park Monday was a big success. With faculty and students on committees for organization, everyone was kept busy and happy.

In the afternoon there was a tug of war across the lake between the freshmen and upperclassmen. The alternatives were to give up the ropes or get wet. Too bad!

Many played indoor baseball; others pushed a big ball almost as high as a house. The mule pull created much excitement. A team of 80 freshmen mules ridden by a freshmen pulled against teams of upperclassmen mules ridden by their mates. Somebody was thrown, it was certain. Were you one? Did you find out whether you could race with a block on your head?

Mrs. Baumelster was chairman of the committee with Dr. Vartanian, Professor Bradford, Donald Butler and Corinne Jensen on the committee.

The sophomores directed the entertainment in the evening. There was dancing from 7:00 to 10:00. Barbara Dallas entertained with a solo dance. There were other interesting numbers by students on their program. The Sophomore committee was: Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Johnson, Miss Ward, Miss Gunn, Margaret Cather and Fred Pierce.

The Freshmen furnished the eats. "Isn't the aroma of that coffee appetizing?" was one question, and "My but that barbecued sandwich was delicious, yum, yum!" could be heard here and there. The Freshman committee was Miss McCartney, Mr. Simmons, Mr. Dunlap, Jack Montgomery and Grace Wells.

Vested Choir Has Ability and Voices

Mr. Logan Pleased With Material
And Predicts Splendid Organization

"Ability and voices of very fine quality have been found at the U. of O. this year," states Mr. Logan, head of the School of Music.

At the rehearsal held on Wednesday night, October 3, 1928, about sixty students were present. According to present plans, the University can look forward to having a splendid helpful organization in the Vested Choir.

U. OF O. TICKET SALE SETS RECORD!

The ticket drive went over 100 per cent! It was the first drive of its kind ever held by the University of Omaha, and it proved that the student body is right there—back of the team.

The team this year has a soul. It's right there every minute of the game. The student body this year has a soul. It was right there every minute last Wednesday—from the opening of the big mass meeting to the close of the ticket drive.

Students who were turned down kept coming back for more! Citizens of Omaha interested in the growth of the university as a city institution and football fans of the city helped them a great deal; yet some hard knocks were inevitable, and the U. of O. students proved their calibre straight through. They put over in a big way one of the biggest campaigns their university has ever held. School spirit—real school spirit—ran high last Wednesday; the University of Omaha was advertised by the entire student body as never before; the students are to be congratulated.

They lived up to the record for school spirit set by the new President of the institution, Dr. Emery, and by the fighting football team of 1928.

The team is fighting hard! The students are fighting hard! The University of Omaha is growing! The greatest year in the history of the U. of O. is before us!

There is nothing that costs so little and goes so far as courtesy.

THE BAND KEEPS COMING!

Our boosting band still backs our team! The band was out full force at the Ft. Crook game and, under the able direction of Evelyn McDonald, helped that U. of O. team turn in its second victory.

We're all back of the band just as we're back of the team. We're glad to see that a band stand has been erected at the Athletic Field. That helps in many ways. Those of you who can play any musical instrument, and who aren't playing in that band, are missing a great opportunity.

Take advantage of it now, and see Professor Logan. The band hopes to go with the team on several out-of-town trips. Why not go along?

Boost your team and your university; keep building up the spirit at the U. of O.; and at the same time enjoy a rousing good time.

Here's to one of the best bands Omaha ever heard!

Don't worry—it may never happen.

BACK YOUR CHEER-LEADERS

The best group of cheer-leaders in the history of the University of Omaha has been organized on the campus this year. Professor I. A. Hammer is directing these seven students who are to lead the cheers and songs at all uni events.

They need your support, students and faculty. They ask for your cooperation. Without a grandstand full of rosters who will yell in unison—as the leaders direct—any cheering is futile.

Let's swing in line and support the new cheer-leaders in the same fine manner in which we are supporting the team and the band.

Thanks to you!

Let's show 'em we're there with the real spirit. The cheering at the Ft. Crook game was good, but it can be one hundred per cent better. Let's get it!

"MY DEAR, WASN'T IT JUST TOO PRECIOUS? I JUST—"

WHAT AM I TALKING ABOUT? READ AND SEE!"

"My dear, wasn't it simply marvelous? And the second one in succession, too. And didn't they look, too adorable in those new red sweaters and socks? Why, I thought—what am I talking about? The football game last Friday, of course. And wasn't it just too splendid the way our dear boys crashed over the line twice in the first quarter for a touchdown? I was simply thrilled out of breath my dear, (although I did manage to devour a box of crackerjack and an apple during that quarter.)

"There was only one thing that troubled me—that was that Benny Huff failed to kick the ball over after that first touchdown. I told mother about it, and she said that Benny must have had an ingrown toe-nail or something, the poor dear boy. I do hope he gets fixed up all right, don't you? For ingrown toenails are such stupid things I think, especially when people insist on walking all over them at a dance.

And oh, another thing. Those sorority girls behind us, (not mentioning any names, of course, for that would be catty), insisted on jabbing their knees into my backbone and dropping apple cores on my hat. I wonder, don't they get fed well at home? I never saw anybody devour so much food. Yes, I mean I really never have, my dear.

"Now, what was I talking about? Oh yes, between halves wasn't that snake dance funny? Maybe it isn't nice to say, but I thought it looked more like a "crack the whip" than anything else. Yes, I say I honestly did.

"And oh, that glorious wonderful, marvelous, yes, I was going to say band, you took the words right out of my mouth. It seems as though you might at least let me finish a sentence before you interrupt. Some women are like that though—not satisfied unless they are talking all the time. Now you mustn't feel bad, dear, for I really didn't mean it. I talk quite a bit once in a great while, that is to say, centuries, myself.

"To go on, though, wasn't it a shame that the army got a touchdown the last minute of play? I

A Life of Ease

You know, I've often thought how perfectly grand it would be to work as a reporter on the Gateway. Why? Oh, it's an utterly simple way of getting your name in the paper without working.

But they do work? My dear, don't ever let them fool you with that line. Why, the other day I was walking underneath the office and there was the most awful noise,—people shouting, chairs banging, the very floor trembling. Now, that may sound like work to some but I reserve the right to my own opinion.

But, as I remarked before you interrupted me, it's a simple way to get your name in the paper. All you have to do is write down a few words and hand them in.

Get facts? Huh—that's all a bluff. They don't even try to get facts. Just the other day the paper came out with name of one of my best friends misspelled. If they had really been wanting facts, it would have been the easiest thing in the world to look her up and ask her how to spell it. She's always around, that is almost always.

But I believe that I would rather be editor than anything else. All she does is sit around and boss things, and she gets all the credit. Well, maybe she does do a little, but she never seems to be busy when I see her flustering around the building.

Why don't I go to staff meeting, and offer my services? When is it? Thursday at 12:30. But that's my lunch hour. The rest of the staff do it? They're probably trying to reduce anyway.

No, I don't believe that I will go in that sort of thing. They probably wouldn't appreciate me anyway. In that case, well? Then I'm late for class and I've got three cuts in there already. That teacher seems to think that I should be interested in his silly subject and marks me down every time I miss class. I suppose I must go. Ah 'bye.

hadn't remembered that I was wearing my new black satin. Yes, only $10.95 on sale, but it really is a bargain, don't you think? What's that? You have to go? Oh, but I'm just awfully sorry, don't cha know. Anyhow, it was nice to talk to you, for I do love to hear you talk. You have the sweetest voice. How do you manage it my dear? What, oh must you really? Well, ta ta old thing. I'll see you at the next football game.

WHEN THE CAT'S AWAY

There be strange goin's on in the Gateway office when the editor leaves town! The other day while the editor was in Norfolk watching our gang keep a-comin', if her mind's eye saw the office she left and pictured it the way she left it, it saw the wrong way!

For was it the office of toll and drudge? Was it the office of manuscripts and copyreaders' ink? I ask you, was it? And I answer you—it was—not!

The office furnished a retreat for assembly-ditchers. Here a budding poet attempted to express his distorted thoughts. Here were heard the peals of uncontrollable laughter at the results of a stumbling tongue. Here were lunches consumed. Here were noses powdered. Here were secrets whispered. Here were lessons hastily glimpsed at two minutes before class time. Here were jibes and bits of sarcasm handed out free to all comers. And, lastly, here were one or two bits of copy written.

So, "a word to the wise"; don't let your conscience bother you if you leave the grind for a little while, for things aren't all what they seem!

Mac's Mutterings

WE APPRECIATE the cooperation of Omaha in our first big ticket drive.

OUR FRIEND Mr. E. E. McMillan, Principal of North High School, has again aided the U. of O. by filling the vacancies in the university band with members of the North High Band.

IT IS surprising how many students want to play in the band since the new band stand has been erected. We might say that the view of the football field from the band stand is excellent.

OUR FIRST home game was a complete financial success, and we know that this came about only because of the unlimited amount of school spirit that is prevalent in the university.

SOME OF our ticket solicitors collected tickets, as well as sold them. The tickets collected, however, were notices to appear in police court for violating the city parking ordinance.

"OCTOBER IN A WOODED LANE"

October in a wooded lane,
 Where in the fainting fragrance
 Of the sleepy Summer
 Struggles faintly
 In the arms of virile Autumn
 Longing, yielding, yet resisting,
 Fearful, with an unamed fear,
 Remembering her Springtime lover;
 Unable yet to trust another;
 And then surrenders, timidly,
 October in a wooded lane—
 We found each other so;
 But will you ever come to me?
 That only Time can know.

MAGIC OF AUTUMN

There's a tang of frost in the morning air;
 There's a breath, as of winter, by night,
 There's a touch of Nature's protecting care,
 Half-hidden from human sight.
 There's a sky that is bluer than those of June
 There's a wind that dances in glee,
 There's the heart of a gypsy hidden deep
 In the human person that's me.
 There's a breath of fragrance, crisp and chill,
 To speed me on my way,
 And a hundred near-hidden, delectable haunts
 Call me to come and play,
 Oh, they say there is magic, deep and black,
 In the heart of every rover,
 But there's never a magic one-half so strong
 As that of the blue October.
 For she calls me away from my pressing work,
 Calls me to share her gifts,
 Teaches me gay little lulling songs,
 And yet, all the time, up lifts
 So I leave my work to the wings of Chance
 And play with the wind on the lea,
 For the gypsy heart has conquered all
 In the human person that's me.

Phyllis Warrick.

"YES—OR NO?"

Why is it that some take life so seriously, while others amble aimlessly through it with so little genuine thought? The one does not know where to laugh; the other cannot cry. One wears himself, and every one else, out with trying; the other wearies the world with his habitual attitude of indifference. A hell of melancholy with one; a hell of empty laughter with the other. Neither are happy, yet both exist from day to day, imagining in some vague way that they are getting the very utmost out of life. There never was a thing helpful to existence, that has not been carried to the extreme by someone who thought, "If one dose will help me, three will make me well." Perhaps all this is entirely too serious to be anything except boring. Perhaps it is all just one big joke. Maybe it's merely a mistake for having happened at all, but it is here so that you can pay your pennies and pick your choice, and take from it what you can see there.

Who's Who at the U. of O.?

MRS. RENE E. H. STEVENS
 Dean of Women

The U. of O. is very fortunate in having a dean of women as well prepared for her position as is Mrs. Stevens. A resident of Omaha, Mrs. Stevens entered the Peru Normal. She has also taken work at the University of Chicago, and at the School of Organic Education. Mrs. Stevens is well known in educational circles of Omaha, having served as principal of Walnut Hill and Central Schools. Recently she was head of the Junior School of Greenwich, Conn. For ten years she labored in organizing the women to secure their ballot franchise. This experience enabled Mrs. Stevens to know women as no other could have done.

Hooked-rugs are one of the things that occupy her time, both the old fashioned type and the more modern ones. Music has a fascination for Mrs. Stevens, who loves to sing. Before leaving Omaha to take up work in the east, she was actively connected with choir work here.

In speaking of the outlook of the school, Mrs. Stevens says that "we are starting out on a most promising way with the most auspicious circumstances." Also, she feels that there is an opportunity to put the University of Omaha forward; as the law of compulsory education creates within the student a desire for higher education, and the U. of O. is the logical answer to these needs.

JACK H. MONTGOMERY
 Freshman President

The head of the University's "youngsters" is Jack Montgomery. He comes from South High and before coming to the U. of O. he pilled his trade as a traveling salesman. Jack has pledged himself to the Phi Sigma Phi's. Behind him, as well as before him, Jack has an athletic record. At South he played basketball for two years, an earned four letters on the track. This year he has made the U. of O. squad in the line.

All great men have hobbies and Jack, not to be outdone, has one too. It's in basketball. In speaking of the school he emphatically declares that the U. of O. is "all there." So great things can be expected from him before he finishes his Liberal Arts course.

Fort Crook Loses To Omahans By 12-7 Score

Soldiers' Fumbles Pave Way for Two Omaha Touchdowns; Robinson Stars for the Army

Edwards and Roberts Score In First Quarter For Hubkaites

Scoring two touchdowns to Ft. Crook's one, the U. of O. Cards walked off the field with the long end of a 12-7 score last Friday, October 5. This is the second victory this season, the team having won from Norfolk in their initial contest 7-0.

Both touchdowns were made by the uni eleven in the first quarter as the results of recovered fumbles. The Soldiers scored their touchdown during the last three minutes of play. Halfback Penickoff received the ball from Robinson, and ran forty-two yards. Robinson kicked goal for the extra point.

The Army line found real difficulty in crashing through the Cardinal line. Boehler, especially, played well on the line. Quisenberry of Omaha consistently threw the opponents for losses, and Boehler and Edwards did some good ball carrying. O'Hanlon's kicking was also a feature of the game. Quarterback Bennie Huff was the backfield strength for the college lads with Fullback Robinson the strong ground-gainer for Ft. Crook.

First Quarter

Army kicked off to Omaha, who after a series of plays punted. Army tried the Cardinal line, but was forced to punt. The Army line held, and Omaha punted. Omaha held the advantage in the exchange of punts. The Army made two yards through the line, but on the next play fumbled. Roberts recovered, and went over. Kick was low.

Uni kicked off. Teams exchanged punts, Omaha again taking the big end. Edwards cut through center, side-stepped, whirled, and ran thirty yards for a touchdown. Try for point was wide. Ft. Crook kicked off. On exchange of punts, Army held best. Omaha substituted Arthur for Roberts. Omaha hit the line for two yards. Time out for U. of O. Omaha punted. Army punted. The team wants to see every Omaha Uni student at the Tarkio game Friday. These boys are going to be tough, so come out and help us win the argument.

Cabinet of W. A. A. Plans for Year

Classes in Archery and Clogging May Be Held in Uni Gym Under Miss Hobby

The Cabinet of the U. of O. Women's Athletic Association met in Jacob's Hall on Monday afternoon, October 1. The constitution of the organization was read, and amendments were made concerning the addition of more sports.

It is hoped that classes in both archery and clogging may be conducted in our gym under the guidance of Miss Hobby of the Omaha Y. W. C. A.

Time and Date Later

Many University girls enjoyed these activities last year at the Y., and it will be of great interest to them to have such classes on our own campus. The time and date of the meeting of these classes will be announced soon. Credits earned in these sports will count toward W. A. A. membership.

Watch for the date!

Dear! What a Game!

"My DEAR! Are you THERE? I've been simply on the verge of a COLLAPSE since this morning to get in CONTACT with you, no less! Well, it's something like this. Did you apprehend the Fort Crook GAME last Friday? No? Oh I just WON'T believe it! I DIDN'T really THINK that of YOU, my dear, but you may assume that it will NOT occur again. Oh, NO it won't, my sweet, for you are COMING with ME EVERY SOLITARY SCRIMMAGE, what I mean. Yes, you ARE! Well, as I was elucidating before your crude comments, it was the most ENRAPTURING pearl of a contest ever cast before the common rabble. I was in HYSTERICIS clear through it, my dear. The Olympic games MUST have been MID-VICTORIAN, actually they WHERE! But I was so MAD at that Ft. Crook team I could have BLOWN UP A SPARE! I mean I POSITIVELY could. It was CRIMINAL the way they acted! Of course I s'pose they HAD to do SOMETHING to look busy, but they really overdid it, running hither and yon, and appearing in the most INCONSIDERATE manner right under the VERY MUD-GUARDS of our team, in the CRUEST POSITIONS! Oh, you have NO IDEA! And on THEIR field, too, can you GRASP it? But I DO realize, dear, JUST between us females, now keeping this dark for I WOULDN'T appear IMBICILE for WORLDS, before the OVERPOWERING MIND-MATTER and WHAT NOT that is said to inhabit the SUPPOSED heads of the OPPOSING SECT, where was I? OH yes, dearie, I DO admit, between you and me and the 'phone company, that football IS a bit bewildering occasionally, and I fear that I infer that it's JUST POSSIBLE that some of the priceless plays pass lightly over, if you know what I mean. But that is the case with HALF the fraile, if the truth could be alimined, and I'M naive enough to state it's a FACT. Oh, but my DEAR, I'm POSITIVE it IS! But that doesn't ALTER the article from MY point of incision, it only INFLATES my ARDOR the more, can you scramble that? NOW, you can prepare for ANYTHING, my dear, for you're GOING to the next game, whether or what you will, and BLUFFING, altho, or I may curl up with rage and strangle you, what I mean. Ha, Ha, Baby."

Plans for the semi-centennial jubilee celebration of the founding of Creighton University have gotten under way and it bids fair to be one of the most outstanding events during the existence of the school. The Creightonians, we, the University of Omaha, congratulate you.

7. I will be with the team in time of defeat.
8. I will be with the officials.
9. I will help preserve order.
10. I will advertise all activities.

Hubka's Gridsters Scrimmage Vikings

North High's football team scrimmaged with Coach Hubka's gridsters Tuesday afternoon, October 2. The workout was short, and "Hub" used most of his reserves at the practice. The Vikings proved to be a clever bunch of players, and faked a play around the end which netted them a touchdown.

Ends Needed

Finding capable ends seems to be a problem with the university coach. Roberts, a three-year veteran from Kearney Normal, and Hutchinson, a letterman from last year are first choice so far, although Jack Montgomery, former South High basketball star, and Arthur, a former Centralite, are showing great promise.

Quisenberry, a big, raw-boned lad from North High School, is finding it hard to get set in one position. He has been placed at everything except quarterback this fall. He was a former center at North High. Bob Streitwieser, a capable guard, was also tried at fullback and proved that he is well-fitted for this position.

The starting line-up for the scrimmage was:

North High	Omaha
Melchor	L. E. Rasche
Kahn	L. T. Potter
Hewlett	L. G. Barber
Barber	C. Keholm
Quisenberry	R. G. Isard
Frealey	R. T. Elliott
Arthur	R. E. Sharpe
Huff	R. B. Potter
Edwards	L. H. Wurgler
Boehler	R. H. Wittges
Streitwieser	F. B. Gilbert

BARBER TO CAPTAIN OMAHA UNI ELEVEN; PLAYING SECOND SEASON

Sportitorial

Girls, the school year of 1928-29 has started. We are all putting forth great mental effort and need a certain amount of recreation and physical exercise for balance. We are prone to neglect this, but we must not!

Our sport program for young women will begin immediately with basketball practice once a week. A swimming class is to be organized. Clogging and archery will be offered with point credit toward your "O". Hikes are planned from time to time. In the winter there will be skating parties. Next spring, track teams will be formed.

Watch for these, girls. We need you to help this athletic program, and you need the training such activities give!

PEP SESSION, FRIDAY SENDS TEAM TO VICTORY

No wonder we won the game against the Army! At the assembly Friday morning more enthusiasm was shown than this Uni has known in many a day. Under the able guidance of our new cheer leaders the whole student body responded to yell after yell until the gym's roof nearly gave way! Then Dr. Emery, speaking in the place of Coach Hubka, gave the message to the student body that the team was already to go, and that it was now up to the students to win the game.

More songs and yells followed, and then Dean Dunlap, in commenting on the recent athletic drive, said, "The question has often been raised: 'Is there a yellow streak in the football team?' He continued by saying that the team proved there was not by their game at Norfolk. He went on to state that in the minds of the Athletic Board the question had come up, 'Is there a yellow streak in the student body?' He closed with, 'In the campaign last Wednesday you students proved to be all red.'

And when we were excused one faculty member was heard to say, 'The student body has won the game against the Army right now.' AND WE DID!

New Captain Predicts Big Season For Cardinals; Expects To Win Most Games

Playing his second year of varsity football, John Barber was elected Captain of the U. of O. eleven Wednesday, October 3.

In commenting on his team, Barber stated, "We are going to have a big year. I know that we have the best bunch of fellows that ever turned out at Omaha."

Is Versatile Player

Last season Barber played a guard position on the varsity eleven, and at the beginning of this season was shifted to the pivot position. In the initial game of the season, Barber played a bang-up game against Norfolk. His snap-backs were all accurate, and it was seldom that the opposition made much through the center of the Cardinal line.

Out To Fight

"We are going to win most of our games this season," John smiled. "And we surely will give the boys a good fight. The fellows are all going their best, and so, with our good coaches, we are bound to succeed."

Barber is a Sophomore this year, being in the second year of a pre-legal course. He is popular with the students, and, since he keeps up in his studies, the faculty is strong for him.

Is All-Round Athlete

The Cards' new captain is also an all-round athlete, having been elected last year's popularity contest. He is an expert swimmer and a basketball guard of good calibre. Those who saw Johnny on the hardwood floor last year will remember the tough opposition he gave the visiting teams. Barber got his prep school training at North High School. There he played football, basketball, and was a member of the track team.

All are looking forward to a big year under Johnny, as he is well liked, a capable player, and is in to fight—win or lose.

Sh—! At last the secret is out! Dr. Emery, the well loved president of our university, is only human after all! Never let it be known that we know it BUT—Dr. Emery plays golf! He admits that he is just a novice at the game, but then so was Bobby Jones!
